Marcus Hearing Date Set For September 6

September 6 has been set at the date for hearing charges against Harry Marcus, head of the defunct firm of Marcus Inc. of Richmond, who is accused of concealing assets in bankruptcy proceedings.

The case was originally set for hearing last Tuesday, but upon the motion of Assistant United States Attorney Richard M. Lyman, Jr., United States District Judge Frank A. Kerrigan granted the postponement.

Marcus is accused of hiding assets approximating $1200 when he made report to federal authorities following the failure of his store in Richmond last year.

RADIATOR REPAIRS

The service of a shop that really understands cleaning and repairing automobile radiators is a great convenience. Take the precaution of having your radiator examined before you attempt a long trip. Fenders that have been injured can be made like new at the same time. You will find a good place to have this work done in the Buyers Guide on the classified page.

Reprieve Given Till August 22, Ruling Today On New Trial

Universal staff correspondent, Earl L. Shaub.

BOSTON, Aug. 10.—Sacco and Vanzetti beat the death chair tonight just 40 minutes before they were scheduled to die.

They were granted a reprieve until midnight August 22 by Governor Fuller.

RULING TODAY

The reprieve was granted because the state supreme court will announce tomorrow at noon whether their case is to be admitted again into court.

Deleostino Madeiros, who was also scheduled to die tonight, although for another crime was also reprieved. He has been playing along Sacco and Vanzetti's luck for some time.

The three men were informed by Warden William Hendry at 11:27 o'clock that the governor had granted the reprieve.

Vanzetti was the only one to show any emotion. He exclaimed (Continued on Page 8.)

New Facilities Speed Service Of Ferry

With the continuous operation of four steamers during week end and holiday periods officials of the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry company believe that hereafter there will be "no waits, no delays" at either Point San Quentin or Richmond. Placing the new steamer Sonoma Valley in service has made it certain that ample facilities are provided for the motoring public to take care of their requirements, even during peak hours, Saturdays and Sundays.

According to Harold T. Gill, secretary of the company, the steamer Sonoma Valley is now in readiness to handle a sufficient number of machines so that approximately 200 automobiles an hour may be carried over the route. Gill says that the company has expended $300,000 in wharf improvements and steamers and new equipment during the last six months in order that excellent service may be maintained at all hours over this important link connecting the north coast counties with the great Eastbay region.

Kiwians Hear Of Bond Campaign

Discussion of the harbor bond campaign occupied the meeting of the Kiwanis club yesterday. Fred D. Parr, the principal speaker, urged the passage of the measure as a move for making Richmond the center of more industry and commerce. C. D. Horner was chairman of the points of interest visited, and the return trip was made by way of Sacramento.

Operation Of Local Car Lines By Espee Is Suggested

At the meeting yesterday of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce Director Johnston struck the nail on the head when he said: "Why should Richmond permit the street car company to just operate the main line on Macdonald avenue—the cream of the business when the company was granted a franchise in good faith to conduct and operate the San Pablo avenue, North of Macdonald and Twenty-third street and the Sixth street lines? Why make wheat of one and chaff of the other? The company must take the less attractive lines with this fine paying main line.

STEPS NECESSARY

"However, I do feel that the time has come not only in Richmond but in other communities where we must take steps to relieve our street car companies of the heavy burden of street work made necessary by the tremendous motor vehicular traffic, which tears up our streets. It seems to me that the company is justified in complaining about this burden."

Man Convicted In Looting Of Sea Sled Here

M. Brown of Oakland will appear in the Alameda police court this morning for sentence on a charge of having sold accessories stolen from a sea sled owned by Dr. William Rebec, of the Oakland Emergency hospital, in Richmond, last March.

Police Inspector L. E. Jones of the Richmond police, testified in the Oakland court trial yesterday morning which resulted in Brown's being found guilty. The sea sled was a valuable one and was located and sunk near the Winehaven wharf. It was brought out in the trial that Dr. Rebec had hired Brown to bring the sled from Martinez to Oakland. Brown testified that he stopped at the Richmond inner harbor to get gas in the city. When he returned the vessel was gone, he said. It was found some hours later in several feet of water, with all movable accessories removed.

"Trailed" for a long time, Brown was arrested, it was said, while he was attempting to dispose of a portion of the accessories in Oakland.

Delegates from the Richmond Builders' Exchange to attend the eighth annual convention of the State Builders Exchanges in Santa Cruz, September 3 to 5, will probably be appointed at the luncheon of the local exchange today. The committee in charge of the social night of the builders, August 22, will convene to elect a chairman and make arrangements for the event.

The convention entertainment program has been worked out by a special committee of the San Francisco Builders Exchange in cooperation with the Santa Cruz Chamber of Commerce Hospitality bureau. Special efforts are being made to entertain the visiting ladies and children while their men folks are in session at the business meetings of the convention. A "kiddies banquet" will be a novel feature at which all children will be given toys and favors. Another feature for the children will be a treasure hunt for cash prizes which will be hidden in the beach sands. The hunt will be led by Pirate Captain Kidd and his brigade. The arrival of King Neptune is another pageantry feature. (Continued on Page 8.)

MACHINE TO BE MANUFACTURED ON GREATER SCALE THAN EVER BEFORE ATTEMPTED

DETROIT, August 11.—The following statement was issued here today by Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company.

"The new Ford automobile is now an accomplished fact. The engineering problems affecting its design and equipment and affecting also its manufacture have all been solved.

UNDER THOROUGH TESTS

"But before a single car of the new type is offered for sale to the public each part will have been tested under every condition which we have been able to discover in more than twenty years of building automobiles for use all over the world.

"We know also what is needed as to personnel and factory equipment in order to produce these new Ford cars in greater numbers than any manufacturer has ever attempted before. The work of retooling our plants throughout the country to prepare for the heaviest production schedule we have ever undertaken, is now nearly complete.

"But we realize that any new automobile that is to gain and hold public esteem today, whether it shall sell for $500 or $10,000, must perform exactly as it is designed to perform. No automobile manufacturer, in this day and time, should allow the public to do his testing and proving for him. The Ford Motor Company cannot afford to permit automobile users to discover imperfections in these new models.

NO FAULT FOUND

"We haven't discovered any faults in the finished new Ford car, but we are taking nothing for granted. If there are any faults they shall be found and remedied before any of the cars are offered for sale.

"When the Model T Ford car was designed more than twenty years ago, no one could foresee the wide variety of conditions under which it would operate. It did not occur to us that that automobile would be expected to perform as satisfactorily in Alaska as in South Africa. We knew little about the varying effects of climatic conditions in Boston and in Colon, upon automobile motors and other equipment. We had yet to discover that carburetion at sea level presented one definite problem, while carburetion at very high altitudes presented an entirely different problem.

CAMP DEL MONTE, Aug. 10.—The familiar cry of the American doughboy of "when do we eat" has lost nothing in popularity or prestige since the days of the World War. Neither has the man in uniform suffered from loss of appetite.

Camp Del Monte, where 3000 officers and enlisted men of California National Guard including many Richmond youths under command of Brigadier General R. E. Mittelstaedt are attending annual training camp, furnishes convincing proof of the above assertions. And, to the complete satisfaction of the guardsmen, "goldfish" and "canned willie" have been particularly conspicuous by their absence. "Chow" is being served in great variety and there's lots of it.

A partial list of the staple articles of foodstuffs consumed during the first week of the encampment, which opened July 30, included the following, as shown by reports of officers of the quartermaster corps: Potatoes 24,000 pounds, fresh beef 12,500 pounds, corned beef 613 pounds, bacon, 2094 pounds, frankfurters 625 pounds, ham 555 pounds, fresh pork 875 pounds, bologna sausage 489 pounds, pork sausage 1072 pounds, fresh veal 350 pounds, lard 1635 pounds, butter 1453 pounds, eggs 2413 dozen, fresh milk 500 gallons, bread 11,964 pounds, apples 2500 pounds, bananas 285 pounds, cantaloupes, 70 crates; grapefruit 50 dozen; lemons 25 dozen, oranges 425 dozen, peaches 160 pounds, watermelon 1200 pounds, onions 3300 pounds, cabbage 2485 pounds, carrots 325 pounds, cucumbers 575 pounds, tomatoes 2900 pounds, turnips 300 pounds, beets 225 pounds, beans 3780 pounds, coffee 2815 pounds, flour 8800 pounds, rice 1350 pounds, and sugar 7700 pounds.

The list also included many other items, such as canned fruits and vegetables, cereals of various kinds, tea, spices, condiments, etc., etc. A good idea of the total amount of staples that will be consumed during the two weeks encampment may be gained by multiplying the above figures by two.

285 REGISTER AT SAN PABLO

Showing an increase in registrations over last year, 285 pupils are registered at the San Pablo grammar school which opened last Monday. A. E. Palmer, principal of the school, announced yesterday that the registration would in all probability amount to 325 before the week ends.

Vacations and other causes were given as the reasons for others not registering earlier.

Showing the popularity of the kindergarten, which has been established at the San Pablo school for the first time, 25 children are now enrolled in the department. Mrs. Harriet Jack will be in charge of the kindergarten children.

The teachers besides school principal, A. E. Palmer, are: Miss Blanche Hopkins, vice-principal, eighth grade; Miss Domes, seventh; Miss Burress, sixth; Miss J. Curry, fifth; Miss Oliver, fourth; Miss Crowley, third; Mrs. Seimon, second; Miss Hafford, high first; Miss Jetto, low first; Mrs. Jacks, kindergarten.

Fear Bomb Plot; Carquinez Bridge Put Under Guard

The reported theft of thirteen sticks of dynamite from the Mare Island navy yards early last night led Sheriff R. R. Veale to send three of his deputies to guard the Carquinez bridge and other deputies to guard the California Hawaiian Sugar refinery at Crockett in fear of a bombing by Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers. The men will remain on guard until an early hour this morning, the sheriff's office reported last night.

The state corporation commission yesterday moved to oust E. W. ATHLETICS AND MORALITY

A STONISHING word comes from Germany that certain reformers demand the barring of women from athletics.

Statement is made that exercise is not necessary for the female of the species, although it undoubtedly is for the male.

That sort of logic would rule woman-kind out of the human race.

It is not in line with sound sense.

Women's bodies are constructed of the same material that makes up the bodies of men.

In both sexes exercise is equally essential to keep bodily functions performing in normal, healthy fashion.

In some strange way, the German reformers have confused the matter of morality with the matter of vitality.

Mr. Lindbergh has proved to the world that although some Americans are high flyers others can fly successfully for distance.

Rents have been cut in Italy and if Mussolini can make the landlords come through he is a real dictator and no mistake.

The man who wrote "Let It Rain" might have gone a little further and told us what else we could do about it.

Wonder what they would do in Europe to a European college professor, who insisted that Europe ought to act as Santa Claus to the United States and the rest of the world?

A New York pastor advises folks to take their religion with them on their vacation. That's fine. But what are we to do when the sun is hot, the fish don't bite and we run a fishhook into our thumb?

Now the Italian Fascisti are talking about going bare-headed all the time. If they put this into practice think what suffering it may cause among the hotel hat checkers.

With all of these successful trans-Atlantic flights to occupy the public attention it doesn't seem to us there is as much interest in Babe Ruth's home run record this summer as usual.

Remember the old days when the only persons affected by a barber's strike were the menfolks?

MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

Lucie's problem is just another tragedy of too-early marriage. In her bitterness I am afraid she places the blame where it does not belong. Apparently the whole trouble started with a childish quarrel. Perhaps parenthood will bring them to their senses and help them to grow up.

Says the WOMAN:

Dear Patricia Lee: I am 18 years old and my husband is 20. We were very much in love with each other when we married six months ago, and got along fine until his mother began to try to turn him against me. A few weeks ago we had a bitter quarrel and my husband left me and went back to his mother, and now he is going out with other girls. I have just discovered that I am going to become a mother, and I am almost frantic, for I can't get along on the $8 a week he gives me, and after a while I shall not be able to work. I can't expect my parents to keep me and the baby, for they are not any too well off. Oh, Miss Lee, please do advise me. LUCY W.

Try not to become panicky, Lucie. Perhaps when your young husband learns the true state of affairs he will awaken to his responsibility. But if fatherhood fails to impress him, you can force him to provide for you and the baby, too, when it comes. So put your mind at rest—sympathy will be for you, and people will be only too eager to help you if you are in need. I would not be too hard on the mother, either, Lucie. Maybe she did encourage him to leave you, but I doubt if she approves of his going out with other girls. It makes me feel that perhaps his own instability of character was at the bottom of your troubles. I do hope you can patch things up for baby's sake.

Walter T. finds himself in a tangle where two women are concerned, and he is torn between love and duty. In a situation of this kind someone is bound to be hurt. He might return to the first love, and for a while the thought of his marriage would carry him along—but after the novelty of had passed all care would be a happy.

Says the MAN:

Dear Patricia Lee: When I was 20 years old I met a woman whom I thought I loved. That was six years ago. We lived together for a time without being married and a child was born. About a year ago I found a real love and married another woman who was a widow with a child by her first husband. To complicate matters we are to have a child soon. My conscience is troubling me, for the first woman loves me deeply and says she will wait forever for me to come back. And I feel sorry for my nameless baby. The woman I am married to is all that a wife could be. But do you think I should go back to the first woman. And how can I?

WALTER T. No, I really think you should not. You might leave your wife and go back to the other woman, but after a while you would all be miserable. One rarely makes a success of something when involved solely from a sense of duty. You wouldn't even be able to rinky the first woman happy. I'm afraid it isn't the simplest matter in the world for a man and woman to live together, even when they are held by a strong bond of love, and when that is missing the situation is impossible. Unhappiness and a troubled conscience are the price you must pay for what you have done. The wrong you have done your nameless child and the mother really cannot be wiped out but you can at least see that they

BALANCED, BUT YET—

Science tells us "there is no such thing as a perfectly balanced individual, yet some persons are almost perfect in type, texture, form and complexion." This illustration shows a nearly perfect head development.

This individual, who is not extreme in anything but just naturally able to see things in a true sense and is able to discuss any subject with a fair open mind, has an understanding and respect for the other fellow's viewpoint, sympathies and deals fair with all. His heart is in the right place, he is ever ready to help the weak, one. The fellow with the bal- anced headshape feels himself as good, yet no better, than any one. He has a natural gift of courtesy and kindness and treats the wealth- y neighbor and the laundry man with the same respect, for his key- note is brotherly love. He is ever ready to give up some individual right to turn a frown into a smile. He is especially tender with elderly people, children and animals and they all love him, for he radiates that language that the deaf can hear and the dumb can understand.

This individual is slow to anger and quick to forgive. He gets hap- piness by giving it to others. His back head development makes him a home loving person. His home and family will be fitted out com- plete, for he enjoys the comforts of a cozy den, his pipe and the voice of babbling babies. He en- joys the association of brainy men and women, but there is always one outstanding woman "pal" mighty close to his heart.

FINDS SUCCESS

This is the person who knows how to find the pathway to busi- ness success. He is a natural born business man, who knows the rights and wrongs of buying and selling. He has no trouble getting his prospects to sign on the dotted line. He can sell both his goods and his services and at the same time convince folks that the more life insurance they will take the longer they will live.

This individual is thoroughly ca- pable, can adapt himself to most any kind of work or environment, is well liked and popular.

Don't Pinch Your Feet! Give Them Half A Chance

Isabelle writes that she is hav- ing trouble with her feet, that she is walking a great deal of the day and at night, and that they are swollen and painful. She wants to know if there is any way of avoiding this. She also says: "I have been humiliated this summer terribly. I am living at the shore and going into town to work. Each day when I come home the whole neighborhood goes in for a swim. The fashion for wearing swimming shoes seems to have gone out and I am actual- ly ashamed to exhibit my feet. Is there anything I can do to make them less unsightly?"

Isabelle has brought up a real question. Feet are often unattrac- tive. An artist once said that he could not use a model whose feet were ugly. It spoiled the beauty of the whole body. And he was right. Ugly feet really come from the habitual wearing of tight shoes. A baby's foot is naturally dimpled and dainty. A foot under natural treatment keeps its nat- ural shape. But crimp a foot into a shoe that is too small; walk all day on tiny tip-titled heels, and ignore every law of na- ture, when it comes to footwear and it is no wonder that your foot becomes actually deformed.

Once you have abused your feet, it is almost impossible for you to bring them back to ab- solute perfection. Like a stunted plant, once nature has been thwarted, it is very difficult to correct the mistake. But the con- dition can be helped. Get shoes that fit your feet. If you have a great deal of walking to do, wear moderate heels, with rubber lifts. Corns and bunions can be re- moved with the proper treatment. But do not expect miracles. It will take time to undo the havoc of years of abuse. Be patient and persistent. One of the prettiest shoes for dress-up occasions is the double- strap pump of pastel moire with blond kid trimmings. The ever-popular scarf has as- sumed a new dash and jauntness of color and is decidedly larger than last season's scarves. Stripes are extremely smart when gradu- ated or used in band effect. The colors may be cleverly harmoniz- ing effects or daringly contrasted shades. A shawl scarf of heavy crepe de chine has a dashing printed pat- tern in sunburst effect. The color combination takes yellow, rose and orange for the center with a bor- der of green and lavender. A dainty brassiere-pasty set of crepe de chine has a pretty cut-out embroidery design in self color and pipings of contrasting silk. The bandeau is adjusted by means of an elastic underarm strap and the step-in has elastic at the waist. It isn't much more trouble to install a pump in the kitchen than in the back yard, but it means miles less walking in the course of the year. Don't let a film of dust on the piano keep you from having a pic- nic lunch if the day is good.

When a Man Loves

By ALLIE LOWE MILES

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc. John Barrymore in "WHEN A MAN LOVES" is a Warner Bros. Pic- torization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS—Fabien, a young man, handsome, intelligent, and a priest, meets and loves a woman, Lescout, who is a gambler and a thief. Fabien saves her and carries her off to Paris. Manon's brother steals her for Raoul. Circumstances force her to surrender to Raoul. Fabien, thinking her perfidious, re- turns to his studies. But Manon seeks him, explains, and they go to Paris again, where they live in a dreamlike splendor. Then creditors besiege them.

CHAPTER XVI—Continued "No? But it is pleasant even if one does not plan ahead to in- dulge." Spurred on by the bailliffs' surprise and anger, Fabien was hav- ing a delightful time. Returning the snuff box to his pocket with apparent regret, he continued, "Perhaps a sip of wine would be more to your liking." Without waiting for a reply he filled three glasses from a ewer on the table. "Help yourselves, gentlemen—to your very good health—and future success." Fabien raised his glass and waited, but not for more than a second. The men's red faces in- dicated too plainly that they never refused a drink.

After the rich red wine had passed their throats it seemed to wash away the anger and the hat- eral words that had been struggling for utterance. "Monsieur, we are sorry that it is our unpleasant duty to be in- sistent, but your creditors are very pressing and we must have money today."

At last it was out, mellowed per- haps by wine, although no less true and foreboding in the horrible consequences if the demands were not met. Fabien shrugged his shoulders. There was something that could be done if Fabien would agree. Pick- ing up a deck of cards from the ta- ble, his expert fingers casually divided the pack and shuffled them quicker than the eye could follow. "You are clever enough to make your living at card playing, are you not?" he asked, looking at the dealer. "Once you learn the tricks of the trade, it is simple."

"Never!" With a fleeting ex- pression of horror Fabien shook his head decisively. "Then why not retrench?" Again Lescout shrugged and con- tinued shuffling the cards directly in front of Fabien. "Cut down ex- penses—not yourself, but the table. The man who lives in a fine house and wears a fine suit, but who has no money, is a failure. A man who lives in a fine house and wears a fine suit, but who has no money, is a failure. A man who lives in a fine house and wears a fine suit, but who has no money, is a failure."

"You could make money at the card tables—if you would." Fabien shook his head. "I have told the creditors that I will pay their debts in a week. I have succeeded in making his voice stern and final. "Yes, you have told them that every day for weeks. We will not leave here without the money, snorted the other bailliff angrily. The furnishings in this house are worth a considerable amount," the other continued speculatively as he appraised the valuable tapestries, the rich hangings and rare ornaments in the room.

Fabien understood their inten- tions and squirmed uneasily. How terrible! Lescout heartily agreed. "I have told the creditors that I will pay their debts in a week. AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

"BETTER OLE" STELLAR FILM AT CALIFORNIA

If you find a better show, go to it. Meanwhile, doubt that in the whole wide field of motion pictures, you will find entertainment more consistently enjoyable than that afforded by "The Better Ole" the Warner Bros. production, now showing at the California theatre.

"The Better Ole" has about everything that belongs to a perfect picture. The characters are real and intensely vital persons, especially Old Bill, the lovable British civilian in uniform, who is played by Syd Chaplin, becomes as memorable a character as ever trod the path of a picture. The story, with its background of the war, is engrossing and full of suspense that rises to a smashing climax. The direction, credited to Charles F. Reisner, is good.

But the genius of the picture lies in its laughter. It is the laughter that was stirred out of the bosom of the war, the hilarity of the British army that was captured by Captain Bruce Bairnsfather, when he drew the cartoons that later were to become famous in the London Bystander. These cartoons helped to make Old Bill as well known a figure as the famous, Hagg of Pershing and certain a figure much more beloved.

Old Bill touched the heart and made the world ring with laughter.

In his later incarnations Old Bill appeared as the hero of the play that Bairnsfather and Arthur Eliot constructed out of the cartoons.

In transforming the play to the screen, Charles Reisner and D. Francis Zanuck created a new story, so that "The Better Ole" will be novel entertainment to even the most loyal of Old Bill's followers. The scenario men are to be congratulated for resisting the temptation to use the long Bairnsfather, with his gear, gear for a turn of a phrase, had made famous. The screen play is told with the minimum of titles. The laughs are all in action, as it should be on the screen.

The action is so wildly hilarious that audiences are left fairly gasping for breath between the laughs. Besides Syd Chaplin whose Old Bill's gamblers most of the laughs, there are excellent merry-makers in Jack Ackroyd, as Bill's pal, Alf, and Ed Kennedy as Corporal Quint. Others in the cast include Harold Goodwin, Theodore Lorch, Doris Hill, Charles Gerrard, Tom McGuire, Tom Kennedy, K. Morgan and Arthur Mayton.

Other features on the safe program include the latest International News reel; and Larry Canelo, at the organ.

DIVORCE FILM NOW SHOWING AT RICHMOND

Director Frank Lloyd has made another remarkable picture for Paramount with the inspired assistance of Clara Bow, Esther Ralston, Gary Cooper, Einar Hanson and Norman Trevor.

"Children of Divorce," now playing at the Richmond theatre, tells a new slash in the veil covering the evils of modern divorce and pictures in bold colors life in the youthful ranks of the wealthy social class.

The cast headed by Clara Bow and Esther Ralston, both of whom are starred, and Einar Hanson and handsome young Gary Cooper, give wonderfully fine consistent performances. Too much cannot be said in praise of Miss Bow as the girl who forces marriage on the man of her choice. Cooper, in spite of his love for Esther Ralston, Miss Ralston, in turn, as lovely, diffident Jean Waddington, suffers her disappointment con-tagiously as she found ready sympathy flowing from the audience that saw the picture on its opening night here.

Miss Bow, Miss Ralston and Mr.
Cooper in their big scene where Jean learns that Kitty and Ted have been married during a night of revelry, rise to the histrionic heights as actresses and actors.
There were parts that might well have been given more experienced players, but their youth stood them in good stead and even added to the appeal of the characterizations.

"Children of Divorce" as entertainment is one of the best pic-
theatre. But there is something more than eye-appeal behind it. It's one of the greatest arguments ever brought forward against the divorce evil.

Other film features include
"Hoot Mon," a Bobby Vernon comedy; and the latest Fox News.

Think of the confusion—

if advertised products followed this Soviet Law Recently the Soviet Government passed a law that anyone over 21 could change his name as often as he pleased. Old friends you have known for years as Smith, Brown and Green, might be called Orloski, Potoski and Obovitch overnight.

Think of the confusion!

Even suppose your favorite foods, drug sundries, furniture, automobiles and phonographs suddenly had their names changed! Would you not feel almost a stranger in a grocery, drug or dry-goods store that was stripped of the familiar faces of advertised products?

Like an old friend—you have confidence in the trustworthiness of an advertised product. Years of frank publicity have made its name a synonym for full value. You and thousands of other people are proving this value every day.

The well-known names of advertised products are your best guide to wise purchases. Read the advertisements to see when and where to get them.

To know what is advertised is to know what is best in the market place.

of the prosecuting attorney, As-

It was declared that Loughhead's

tained outside the city. Loughhead

C. OF C. SCORES 'SKIMMING OF TRAFFIC CREAM'

effect that the Southern Pacific might be interested in taking over the street car lines in Richmond from the county line at Albany and operate them in conjunction with the Richmond-San Francisco ferry. Another suggestion was the establishment of an independent bus line from the outlying areas affected by the proposed removal of the street car lines and paralleling the lines of the traction company.

C. C. AID VOTED

Recognizing that proper transportation is absolutely necessary if Richmond is to continue its splendid growth and development, the directors unanimously voted to get behind the city council and the municipal legal staff, headed by City Attorney Tom Carlson with T. H. De Lap as special counsel, in their efforts to battle the application of the Key System Transit company for permission to abandon its feeder lines in Richmond which will come before the state railroad commission at a special hearing next Tuesday, August 16.

COMMITTEE NAMED

A special committee was named to meet with the attorneys Monday noon and present in concrete form the suggestions of the chamber for a proper solution of the problem. And Monday night this committee, comprising E. B. Bull, Henry A. Johnston, Fred D. Parr, W. W. Scott, together with other directors, will confer with the city council, at which time Attorneys Carlson and De Lap will be given their final instructions as to their action Tuesday before the railroad commission.

COMPROMISE?

While the railroad commission, as pointed out by Attorney Carlson, has nothing whatever to do with street paving and the contracts and agreements entered into between the city and the transit company, it was believed that a willingness on the part of Richmond to compromise on street paving costs might result in bringing about a proper solution of this transportation problem.

NO 'TRAFFIC CREAM'

A survey of the books of the traction company, according to City Manager James McVittie, director of the Chamber of Commerce, revealed, he said, that the company operated 14 lines which were feeders to the main lines and which did not pay.

"But why," asked Johnston, "should Richmond be penalized by the loss of three street car lines so that non-paying lines in other East Bay districts could still be maintained?"

BOND ENTHUSIASM

E. B. Bull, general chairman of the Citizens Committee of 100 in charge of the $600,000 harbor bond campaign which comes to a vote Tuesday, August 23, reported that enthusiasm for the bonds was growing daily and that the main

Leach Ramored To Be Future P. G. E. Head

Interest as to the probable successors to the late Wigginton E. Creed as president of the Pacific Gas and Electric company and the Columbia Steel corporation, two of the seven most lucrative industrial positions on the Pacific Coast, was keen in financial circles yesterday.

There seemed to be a general feeling that Frank A. Leach, first vice-president and general manager of the P. G. & E., who rose from a position as an Eastbay newspaper reporter, will be elevated to the presidency of that corporation. The board of directors is expected to make an appointment soon.

In the Columbia Steel corporation case, D. H. Ditchford, vice-president and general manager, on whom Creed is known to have depended greatly, is expected in most financial circles to ascend to the presidency.

Bellflower—Several streets of city to be resurfaced. Problem now was to get every voter to the polls on election day. He urged that the automobile stickers "Let's Make It Unanimous" be placed on every automobile in Richmond. The directors all announced that they would use this slogan.

Present at yesterday's meeting were Directors P. M. Sanford, E. B. Bull, Al Paulsen, Aubrey Wilson, W. W. Scott, W. T. Helms, Fred La Moore, Fred Caudill, J. A. McVittie, T. H. De Lap, Fred Newsom, H. A. Johnston.

Death Of Dole Flyers Fails To Halt Aces Preparing For Hawaiian Flight Tomorrow

(City Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Bad news travels fast and while a deep purple gloom hung today over the Dole air flight from San Francisco to Honolulu when the news was flashed of the deaths of Lieutenant George D. Covell and R. S. Waggoner, near San Diego, the spirit of "we must carry on" for the sake of those brave souls who lost their lives for the future development of navigation was pronounced.

Mechanics paused in their work and hundreds, attracted to both Mills field, San Francisco, and Bay Farm Island airport, Oakland, were downcast by the news, which by unknown means made itself felt behind a thick cloud bank which floated in from the broad Pacific. This same ocean will contribute its mysteries and perils to those remaining pilots and navigators who at one minute past 12, noon, Friday, August 12, will take off to find at the end of 2400 miles a tropical paradise, the Hawaiian Islands.

Aviators and mechanics, feverish in last minute preparations, were working with fury behind every movement at Mills field and strangely enough the big monoplane "Alone" had just taken off for a trial flight and had gained the air in less than 75 feet when the unwelcome news was received. Followed by a blisk from Crissy field, neither pilot knew of the tragedy while they circled the field and waved enthusiastically to their spirit-dampened friends below.

As if adage-old superstition had entered into a conspiracy with present day ghosts of the past, the ill-fated San Diego plane had drawn the number 13 in the start which she had so auspiciously been entered only two days hence.

There were twelve in the race late today and it was predicted there might be fewer tomorrow. Out of the 15 original entrants, Robert Fowler was forced to give up the trip because he was unable to secure a plane. Frank L. Clark dropped out because he wants to attempt to beat the endurance record now held by a German with 52 hours and 25 minutes as the record. Clark hopes to stay in the air 72 hours and his test will not be made until after the beginning of the Honolulu race. Lieut. Covell and Lieut. R. S. Waggoner were cut short of entry by death.

As the starting hour approaches, interest is increasing and the two local aviation fields were beginning to feel the strain of attempts to control the crowds. Extra police and plain clothes men protection was noticeable at both fields today.

John W. (Jack) Frost, pilot of the San Francisco Examiner's Golden Eagle monoplane entry, announced definitely today that the Examiner plane would take off from Oakland. "The Oakland field is ideal for a take-off of this kind while the San Francisco field was made primarily for commercial purposes," he explained. The Golden Eagle was today undergoing a final overhauling at Mills field and was pronounced ready to go.

Mrs. Constance Ohl Erwin, Captain Erwin's young wife, was today on her way by train to North Colingswood, N. J. She had intended to make the trip with her husband to Honolulu and then a Hongkong flight, but was barred because of her tender age. The young woman was barred because

Aged Pioneer Stricken Man Lies Helpless For Ten Hours After Tumble

MARTINEZ, Aug. 10.—Injuring his left leg severely when he fell down a steep embankment on the east side of the Santa Fe railroad tunnel No. 2, yesterday, Charles Baumgart, 88, one of the oldest pioneers of Contra Costa county, lay helpless for nearly 10 hours before he was found.

Baumgart was returning from one of his solitary hikes into the hills when he lost his footing and fell about 25 feet down the bank.

Armed and John Solder, out on a hunting trip, found him at 8 o'clock last night and called their mother and sister. They were unable to move him and summoned Al Rapp.

Baumgart was carried about 100 yards to a shed and was taken to the Rapp home.

The accident occurred a few minutes before noon and it was 10 o'clock before he was moved.

Baumgart was unable to summon aid by shouting and when found declared that he was resigned to await death.

Baumgart, extremely active for his years, resides in Alhambra Valley. He declined to have a physician attend him although his injuries were such that he was unable to even crawl for assistance.

Assisted Chief J. J. Barry, have been donating their off-shift hours with the department inhalator in an effort to save the man's life. Two men have been on duty constantly since 3:30 a. m. Monday when Britten's condition became such that their services were requested and to date they have been on duty 75 hours.

Assistant Chief Barry stated yesterday that in order to keep the personnel of the department up to strength for the needs of the city, the men have been donating their off-shift hours with the inhalator. They are working in six-hour shifts at the hospital.

Tests Show Car Capable Of 65 Miles Per Hour Without Motor Injury Or Discomfort

first brought to light by people who had bought our cars and used them under those diverse conditions. These people put their cars to test which we could not have foreseen and could not have duplicated in that day. We had to remedy faults as they were discovered by the car owners in actual use.

"But twenty years of manufacture have taught us that the only good automobile is the automobile which will do what it is designed to do wherever it is put to work. The experience of those twenty years has taught us also that the public of today knows more about automobiles than ever before and expects more of them."

MILLIONS SPENT
"The building and testing of these first new cars is costing millions of dollars. But it will give us the complete assurance that we are offering the public a car tested and proven as a new car should be."

Some of the things we have discovered already in the tests of these new cars are interesting.
MAKES 65 PER HOUR
"We have accomplished with them a speed of 65 miles per hour which is slightly higher than we had expected."

"We have found that they can be driven for hours at an average speed of more than fifty miles per hour, without discomfort to driver and passengers and without harm to motor and other equipment."

COMFORT FACTOR
"In a recent test one of these new cars was driven 110 miles in two hours. During the first half-hour the car traveled 27 miles. The car covered exactly 56.1 miles the first hour of the trip."

PERFECT TEST
"This test was made over average good road conditions. Part of this route lay through level country and part through hill country where the roads were steep and winding. The day on which the test was made was somewhat warmer than the average summer day in this part of the country, but the motor was not overheated during the run and examination of the motor at the conclusion of the run disclosed no ill effects. The car consumed less gasoline and oil during the test than any of our previous models we have put to similar tests. The ignition, cooling and carburetion system performed perfectly throughout the trip."

FAST PICKUP
"We have tested this new car for getaway and pickup with many other types of automobiles and have found that it surpasses all of them with one exception in quick starting and acceleration. The tests already made show that it is faster, smoother, more rugged and more flexible than we had hoped for in the early stages of designing."

HANDSOME CAR
"We have known from the beginning that this new Ford would be a handsome car. Experiments have been made with a wide variety of color schemes and body designs and all these have been decided upon."

"When this car is formally introduced within the next few weeks we shall be able to say that it is the best and most moderate priced automobile we know how to build."

ALL STANDARDS SCORE VICTORY IN FREAK GAME

HOW THEY STAND

Barrel House	W. L. Pct.
Refinery	10 3 .269
Mechanics	6 9 .400
All Standards	4 10 .286

The All Standards, upstart-down champions of the Standard Oil league played ball in their last game this season at the First street ball park last night. The Mechanics were there too, but were handicapped and lost to the players to fill positions. The score was 14 to 3 in favor of the Standards.

It opened with the Standards getting five runs off Canina and repeating again in the second. He managed to slow them down in the third. But they did knock him all over the field. Murphy held the Mechanics to four hits and one run.

Roberts knocked a freak hit in the third, striking the flagpole in the middle. He got a three-bagger on it. Lane swatted a three-bagger for the Mechanics. Arlett, Freine, Carson, Healy and Huzefka all connected for two baggers. Oh, it was a slugfest game all right. The All Standards got 19 hits and the Mechanics 7.

The seventh inning was where the fun began. Spike Eller, the versatile umpire, showed that he had versatility-plus and impartiality to the nth degree. Spike pitched for the All Standards and shifted to short for the Mechanics. And Roberts impartially umpired. Lots of fun.

Tonight will end the season at First street park. The pennant was won last week by the Barrel House, so the games this week are without anything to fight for. Even the cellar championship is cinched by the All Standards, so what is there left?

ALL HAIL M'GRAW, KING OF MANAGERS

Ed Roush Changes Entire Aspect Of Giants'--McGraw

By Kenneth D. Smith

The wizard manager of baseball, John McGraw, answered the telephone in his hotel room at Chattanooga, Tenn., one morning this spring and was informed that a caller named Ed J. Roush from Ohio was on his way upstairs to see him.

"Here comes my outfield," said McGraw as he hung up the phone. And he meant it, in spite of the fact that he already had six crack outfielders, every one of whom would be welcomed by other big league clubs.

A few hours later Roush had signed to play center field for the Giants, and McGraw gave out the public statement: "The coming of Roush changes the entire aspect of the Giants. Roush will have a big effect on the left and right fielders."

When Roush joined the Giants the New York outfield instantly became one of the best in baseball. Not just because Edlie is such a master fly hawk and hitter, but because of his uncanny sense of judging batters and doping where the ball will be hit.

ROUSH RIVALING SPEAKER
This Speaker is one of the greatest of all time at this art, but Roush challenges him.

Roush is king of the Giant outfield.

SUMMARY
Three-base hits—Roberts and Lane; two-base hits—Arlett, Carson, Freine, Healy and Huzefka. Home runs—Murphy 3; off Lamarra 1. Struck out by Murphy 1; by Canina 1. Batters hit by Canina 1. Wild pitches, Cantua 1.

field, a regular barometer of how the base hits are blowing. His left and right field mates shift according to him.

Every fielder, in or out, shifts according to batters to some extent, for instance, to the right for a left handed hitter and vice versa for one who swings right handed. Even schoolboys do that.

But Roush has studied deeply in the art and has a master's degree. Long ago he passed the stage where outfielders remember all the hitters and shift just a bit for them. He countered into the unexplored fields of this science, where he moves about in center field, governed strictly by what the pitcher is throwing. It took a mathematical mind to learn to do this, but by now he does it as sixth sense. Time and again you will see Roush walk way toward right field and stand there waiting for the ball to be pitched.

THAT'S PROBABLY WHAT TEX RICKARD (above) is saying as he tries to get a number from the toll operator. All of Tex's calls will be to Chicago for the next few weeks. The big fight will be held at Soldier's Field, Chicago, September 22, or September 26. He expects 150,000 to attend. George Fitz, coal baron of Illinois, will be the promoter by proxy, as only a resident of Illinois can promote bouts there.

FISHING

Lakeport—Clear Lake is a big body of water and its supply of fish is not exhaustible. There will be good Big-Mouthed Black Bass fishing all summer, only that during the warm weather they quit biting toward noon. There are plenty of catfish, of course, and while they are not classed as game fish they are good eating if you are camping and as hungry as campers always are, then catfish are mighty fine eating.

ADDS GARAGE

A garage will be added to a house on the north side of Ripley avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets, according to a building permit issued to D. O. LaGrand, yesterday by City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley. The addition will cost $100. A permit was issued to Th. Fagerstrom will do the work at the cost of $800.

Georgetti, Idol Of Italian Fans, Seeks Motor-Paced Title

By ARCHIE McMillan

A short, dark little man, minus the usual mustache, is the idol of thousands of Italian cycling fans in this country. We are speaking of Franco Georgetti, a bear for punishment and a rider who never knows when he has had enough. Speaking English clearly is as difficult for him as wrestling with a plate of spaghetti would be for a blond Nordic.

Franco has only been in the land of the free and one-half of one percent here since last autumn, but in that time he has met fire with fire and the elite of American cyclists have learned to respect and regard him with a degree of fear only vouchsafed a most unusual foe.

Unlimited Endurance

There seems to be no limit to the endurance of Georgetti whose boyhood pastime was riding for miles daily on the sun-baked roads of Italy. He is active and proficient in all branches of the pedal-pushing sport and can bring a mob of frenzied fans to its feet in Madison Square Garden during a six-day race just as easily as he can elicit wild whoops from thousands of enthusiasts viewing a motor-paced race at one of the outdoor velodromes.

In his early years Georgetti stored away an abundance of energy. This perhaps is more responsible for his present success than anything else. Not being blessed with wealth, his family was compelled to live on the plain but wholesome dishes of the Italian farmhand. Meat, because of its expensiveness, was seldom obtainable, and poor Franco had to appease his hearty, boyish appetite with vegetables, fruit, bread and milk.

In Cycling Drill

At the present moment Georgetti is engaged in a thrilling duel with Charlie Jaeger, George Chapman, Vincent Madonna and Francesco Zucchetti for the right to the motor-paced championship already lost by Victor Hopkins, a Iowa playboy, who won it last year.

For the edification of those not conversant with the fine points of motor-paced racing let it be said that this is one of the most strenuous of sports. Only a man of unusual endurance, staying power and stamina can stand the gaff, as they say in sporting parlance.

Virtually every night in the week Franco rides forty miles on a bicycle behind a man on a motorcycle, whose body serves to break the wind and make prolonged human progress over a great distance possible. He is hardly ever conscious of the position of the other five riders against whom he is battling for a title, money and fame.

Head bent low, he plugs away with eyes glued on a little roller attached to the rear wheel of the motorcycle against which he must keep the front tire of his wheel pressed at all times. If he cannot keep up with the motorcycle he falls back and outside of the air pocket created for his protection, and precious ground and time are lost.

Ceaseless Grind

At the finish he is greatly fatigued and weary, and the din of applause from the crowd rings in his ears meaninglessly. Fatigue has wiped away all possibility of exultation or regret, contingent on the outcome of the race, and he lies to his training quarters for a rubdown, to be followed by a dive into bed, where sleep refreshes his aching muscles until noon of the following day.

Sometimes a train has to be caught for a distant city and a tired body is bounced around in a Pullman berth. But the grind goes on night after night while these iron men keep striving to arouse points, which are distributed after each race according to the finishing position of the athlete.

Perhaps the most striking feature of a cyclist's physique is his legs. At any track you will see legs so superbly muscled and developed that any ballet-master would start gushing vehemently after a cursory inspection.

There is no sport we know of that develops the legs as perfectly as bicycle riding. Some critics label the riders freaks because of their unusual development. Heart strain is a complaint that is seldom heard of among cyclists.

But whether he loses or succeeds in his present efforts Georgetti will always be remembered as one of the greatest cyclists ever sent over here from Europe.

Reggie McNamara has proved himself the "Iron Man" of six-day racing, but Georgetti will soon be able to lay claim to the title of "All-Around Iron Man" of cycling.

slightest comfort. All the physicians whom she consulted expressed the opinion that she had not more than ten days to live. She truly seemed to be at the point of death when she took her first package of the Fong Wan Herbs. It was cooked for her at home, and that night she had the first rest after many weeks of terrible suffering. After four weeks of the Fong Wan Herb Treatment, she was able to return to her home in Stockton. From then she has sent the following testimonial to the Fong Wan Herb Co.:

OWES HERB LIFE TO FONG WAN HERBS
Stockton, Cal., March 21, 1927.
To the Fong Wan Herb Co.:
I have been a sufferer with valvular trouble of the heart for some time. I became so ill that my doctors, who were many, gave me but a week or ten days to live.

I decided to try the Fong Wan Herb Co., and to the amazement of all who attended me, I was able to walk into their office after taking the Herbs one week. I have now taken them four weeks and I not only have a good heart, but have also been helped in other ailments.

I cannot speak too highly of the Fong Wan Herbs, as I owe my life to them. I am very grateful to Fong Wan for his kindness.

HEART TROUBLE
Marvelously Relieved

While visiting her daughter here in Oakland, Mrs. W. H. Morton of Stockton was in such great pain due to heart trouble that it affected her left hand. She could neither walk nor rest with the slightest effort. All the physicians whom she consulted expressed the opinion that she had not more than ten days to live. She truly seemed to be at the point of death when she took her first package of the Fong Wan Herbs. It was cooked for her at home, and that night she had the first rest after many weeks of terrible suffering. After four weeks of the Fong Wan Herb Treatment, she was able to return to her home in Stockton. From then she has sent the following testimonial to the Fong Wan Herb Co.:

OWES HERB LIFE TO FONG WAN HERBS
Stockton, Cal., March 21, 1927.
To the Fong Wan Herb Co.:
I have been a sufferer with valvular trouble of the heart for some time. I became so ill that my doctors, who were many, gave me but a week or ten days to live.

I decided to try the Fong Wan Herb Co., and to the amazement of all who attended me, I was able to walk into their office after taking the Herbs one week. I have now taken them four weeks and I not only have a good heart, but have also been helped in other ailments.

I cannot speak too highly of the Fong Wan Herbs, as I owe my life to them. I am very grateful to Fong Wan for his kindness.

6 GIRL SCOUTS BACK FROM BIG SUMMER CAMP

Six Richmond Girl Scouts have returned from a two weeks outing at Camp Chaparral, the Pacific Coast Girl Scout camp, located in the state redwood park in Big Basin. There were Scouts from Oregon, Washington, Nevada and Minnesota there. 175 Scouts and leaders in all during the past two weeks.

The Scout leaders are given animal names by which they are known in camp, while the Scouts are put in age groups and given bird names.

During the two weeks the Scouts slept on the ground, under the giant redwood trees and stars, and lived entirely in the open. The following is a schedule of the Scout activities for the day:

8:30 Rising bell.
7:15 Colors
7:45 Breakfast
8:45 Inspection of beds and nests
9:00 Leaders meet
10:00 Assembly, singing songs
10:15 Fresh fruit
10:30 Clubs
12:15 Lunch
1:30 Rest hour
2:30 Swimming
3:30 Milk and crackers
4:30 Mail comes in
6:00 Dinner
7:00 Court of honor
8:30 Campfire. A play is put on every night by the Dramatics club.
8:30 Warning whistle. Scouts get ready for bed.
9:00 Taps.

In the clubs, which every Scout must join at least one, there are competent teachers directing. In the Pioneer club the Scouts made a lean-to, reflector oven, incinerator, latrine, and cache. The Scouts cut down trees, and became quite expert in the use of the ax, saw and hatchet. The girls worked in groups of four.

In the Map Making club the girls mapped various parts of the park, and made many excellent maps during the two weeks training course.

In the Handicraft club, hammocks, tea mats, leather articles and weaving were offered, and many useful articles were made.

The Dramatics club boasted many clever and talented girls who put on a play every evening at Campfire.

The Archery club taught the proper handling of bow and arrow and the care of them, and many expert marksmen were turned out by this club.

All six Richmond Scouts were awarded leather things for nature work, an honor awarded to Scouts interested in nature work. There is also a Nature club where an extensive study of nature is given.

In addition to the camp work, there were hikes, picnics, track meets, archery meets and treasure hunts for the Scouts.

Mrs. L. W. Weusthoff, local Scout leader, was at the camp also. The six Scouts who were at Chaparral are Christine Troya, Marion Honsinger, Marguerite Godman, Anna Dorgan, who were Pioneer Scouts, and Julia Robbins and Thelma Picklesimer who joined the Map Making club.

It is hoped that next year many more Richmond Scouts will be in camp.

Enchanting Panoramas Only One Of Many Features At Clear Lake Oaks' "The New Switzerland Of America"

There are six miles of lake shore at Clearlake Oaks, and practically all of this is community beach: each lot-owner owning an undivided interest in this entire lakeshore. Can you visualize what a 25-mile lake, with six miles of lakeshore, and a lot big enough to put any kind of a cabin on, will be worth in a few years from now?

Really next year there should be no complaints from those who deary their inability to have a real vacation in the country—out in God's Wonderland—when summer comes around! For the Record-Herald has found a way to make your dreams come true: your dream about a "little place near the water," a different home away from home, "a stream," "a quiet place to rest, to invite friends, to fish, to swim, to go boating"—and what not! Vacation homesites at Clearlake Oaks, "The Switzerland of America"—have been reduced and the terms have now been cut down so that every family in ordinary circumstances can take advantage of an offer which the Record-Herald makes jointly with the promoters of Clearlake Oaks. The offer is open to all new subscribers to the Record-Herald as well as present subscribers. Cozy, sheltered beaches, mineral springs with the temperature of the water like that of the world-famous Waikiki Beach at Honolulu; great, shady oaks, manzanitas and pines in profusion; cool summer breezes that invite drives along the fine roads, with a community beach six miles long—these are some of the pleasures that Clearlake Oaks holds out to you and other members of your family. Clearlake Oaks is situated in Lake county 50 miles inland and elevated something like 1325 feet. The beautiful lake itself is 25 miles long—and it belongs to everybody who is fortunate enough to have a homesite on its shores! Soon this glorious country will be the playground of all northern America, as an investment alone; property at Clearlake Oaks is a "mighty sweet thing to own right now; and think of all the fun you can have while buying it under the plan offered by the Record-Herald.

Better come right to our office today, or mail the coupon at once. You won't be sorry—once you're "sitting pretty" on the front porch of your own lovely bright sunny shore at Clearlake Oaks.

INFRACTION OF CORPORATE LAW CHARGED CHIEF

mended the removal of Trapp after finding the following alleged conditions:

ALLEGED CONDITIONS
That the company, without sufficient earnings, has paid dividends out of capital.

That Trapp has sold the company for $500 cash and $39,500 in common stock, patents to operation of the company in foreign fields, which are held to be of no value to the organization.

That Trapp is now receiving an annual salary of $24,000 a year, half of which has been charged to organization expenses, and in addition is owner of the majority of common stock, on which he received dividends.

NO VOTE ALLOWED

That preferred stockholders, under original permits, should have been entitled to a vote through failure of the company to earn sufficient profit to pay dividends and that they have not been granted this right.

That books of the company are in a deplorable condition, journal entries for a long period, inventories, income tax returns, minute book and all letters of patent being missing.

TRAPP SILENT

Trapp was in conference with business associates today and it was announced that he would not issue a statement on the affairs of the corporation in reply to the charges of the corporation commissioner's office.

OFFICIALS DENY

From other company officials, however, came denials that Jenny Wren Stores, Inc., had been guilty of any infraction of the state corporation laws.

"BOOK" MISSING

The auditors allege that they were shown a minute book on a certain afternoon, and that on the following day when they asked for the book they were informed that the janitor had inadvertently destroyed it with rubbish.

Jenny Wren Stores, Inc., operating 52 retail cash and carry groceries in the bay and peninsula regions, is a Delaware corporation with an authorized capital of $1,100,000 divided into 100,000 shares of $10 par preferred and 100,000 shares of $1 par common. The preferred has been widely distributed in the bay region.

Corporation commission auditors report $938,660 par preferred and $96,667 par common apparently outstanding with $64,148 subscribed, a total of $1,099,776. Against this stock the auditors report $922,392 tangible assets and $249,606 liabilities, leaving a balance of $552,386. This, with $294,280 intangible assets, presents a book net worth of $846,666.

DEFICIT INDICATED

These figures by the commission auditors, submitted as exhibits in connection with the report, show a deficit of $223,110 between par value of shares and book net worth. The company, according to the auditors, claims no tangible assets after liabilities of $708,000.

The auditors further allege that whereas company figures submitted upon request of the commission show earned surplus of $57,000, their own figures show a net profit of $57,000 between January 1 and June 11 this year, their figures show a deficit of $31,134 in the first half of the year.

$31,934 DEFICIT

According to the auditors' figures, gross sales in the first half of this year were $2,169,865, cost of goods was $1,679,612, leaving a gross profit of $490,252, against which auditors' accounts show predicated expenses including salaries, interest, taxes and depreciation of $525,186, leaving a deficit of $31,934, which was reduced to $31,924 by the addition of $3750 income from truck hire.

The intangible assets account as set up by the auditors shows $11,577 for store leases, $67,284 for patents less amortization, $10,000 for estimated organization expenses, $192,517 for stock sales commissions and $13,000 for prepaid advertising accounts for 52 stores, a total of $294,280.

The relation of value of preferred stock to tangible assets is reported by the auditors at 59 per cent and for all capital stock at 53 per cent.

A quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on preferred was declared in July, which auditors allege added approximately $20,000 to the deficit. At the offices of Jenny Wren Stores late yesterday afternoon, all allegations of the corporation commission auditors' report were flatly denied. E. W. Trapp at that time was reported as arranging consultation with his attorneys and unavailable.

$10,000 Bail Is Set For Watson

OAKLAND, Aug. 10.—Percy Watson and Albert J. Becker, wealthy Owens River valley ranchers under arrest on charges of transporting through Oakland on May 10 dynamite believed to have been used in frequent dynamiting of the Los Angeles aqueduct, were arraigned today before Police Judge Howard L. Bacon in Oakland. Bail was fixed at $10,000 each and the case continued until tomorrow to be set.

Watson already is at liberty on $5000 bail in Martinez on a charge of making false representations in purchasing the dynamite, a portion of which was found in the No. 10 siphon of the water system.

MARTINEZ, Aug. 10.—Attorney T. D. Johnston, who, with Attorneys A. F. Bray and J. E. HECTIC BATTLE

The execution was postponed after a day of hectic conferences and court hearings. Arthur Hill, attorney for the condemned men went into the state supreme court today with exceptions to the ruling of Judge Webster Thayer who had refused to revoke the death sentence or hear a motion for a new trial. Judge Sanderson announced that he would pass upon the exceptions tomorrow.

PLEA FOR RESPITE

Hill hurried to the governor's office and pleaded for a respite so that his clients could have the benefit of tomorrow's decision.

The governor summoned Attorney General Reading, six former attorney generals and the executive council.

They debated the case all day at intervals and far into the night.

In the meantime Hill hurried out to see Justice Holmes of the U. S. Supreme Court and then returned to the governor's office without making public the decision of his conference. He made another plea before the governor and his advisors tonight.

The first intimation that a reprieve had been granted was given by Warden Hendry at 10:30 o'clock tonight. Although he asked a minute later that the announcement be held up it was generally believed that the announcement was authentic.

It was sometime after 11 o'clock before the announcement was confirmed at the state house. At that time William S. Reed secretary of the executive council gave out the official information.

Just prior to that Attorney General Reading called for blank papers to be filled out and signed by the governor.
